Montevideo, 28th

Archbishop Soler arrived in the Duca di Galliera this morning, and was fervently welcomed.

Abdon Arozteguy writes in La Opinion Publica of Pelotas that he will have nothing more to do with the Blanco revolution, which he says is devastating the country, is a creator of imbecile leaders, and finally, is consolidating the Government it is pretending to destroy. Arozteguy hits the nail on the head this time, which shows that his own head is getting level.

A police-force under Commissary Colman of Minas, surprised and completely routed a party of twenty-five rebels under Gregorio Diano, taking ten prisoners, all their horses, accoutrements and arms. An official bulletin of to-night places Lamas and Aparicio with two thousand men and twelve thousand animals of different species in the vicinity of Melo, adding that General Villar's army is in hot pursuit.

A peace-meeting composed chiefly of the legislative body was held last night at the residence of Deputy Federico Capurro and after a great deal of eloquent spouting it was decide to name a Committee to wait upon H.E. and beseech him, as an indispensable preparatory measure towards the object of their meeting to withdraw the interdiction and muzzle from the Press, to which it appears the President will assent; but, while desirous of peace, at present will neither oppose nor foment the movement in this direction preferring to act in harmony with the exigencies of the moment. El Imparcial published in Canelones confirms the death of the blanco commander Francisco Ledesma in the battle of Hervidero. He has left a widow and children in absolute poverty.

Mrs. Clemencia Victorica de Ellauri, the young wife of Mr. José Leon Ellauri and only ten months married, died yesterday in child-birth. On the night previous a brother of Ellauri was married to Miss Chucarro. It is a very sad case and has caused great sorrow in this community.

The well known and esteemed Commissary of the Cerro, at the weedding on Saturday night of his relative Miss Elena Marexiano to Dr. José Ramasso, suddenly fell down in a fainting fit from which he is still suffering.

The Albion foot-ball Club beat the Peñarol team all hollow yesterday—the 5th victory of the season.

Dr. "Jim" Returns to the Cape.

Berlin, 28th—Baron von Bülow, Ambassador in Rome, has been named "ad interim", Minister of Foreign Affairs vice-Baron Marshall von Biberstein.

Kiel, 28th—Emperor William gave a grand banquet here to-day in honour of his grandmother Queen Victoria, King Leopold of Belgium was present.

Barcelona, 28th—Acting on secret information, the police pounced on a hidden store of explosive bombs, and two men in charge of it were arrested.

Berlin, 28th—It has been decided to establish a Corn Exchange in this city, as resolved at a recent meeting of millers and others interested in the trade.

Madrid, 28th—At Manresa (Cataluña) there was a fight to-day between the strikers and the men still at work, several were wounded on both sides.

Brussels, 28th—King Leopold has been gazetted as an Admiral of the German Navy, by order of Emperor William.

Berlin, 28th—The petroleum refinery at Cosel in Silesia blew up to-day. Five men were killed and three seriously injured.

Vienna, 28th — The latest telegrams from Kolomea in Galitzia, in reference to the railway bridge accident there yesterday, report the number of victims as 9 killed and 14 injured, several of the latter will probably die.

London, 28th—The streets to-day were as crowded as on the 22nd, to see the Queen on her way from Windsor to Buckingham Palace for the Garden Party she gave there, and the cheers of the populace were frantically enthusiastic as Her Majesty passed.

Lyons, 28th—Some 500 masons and house-painters have gone on strike; and it is feared that all workmen connected with the building trade will follow suit.

Paris, 28th—It is said that ex-President Droz of Switzerland has decided to accept the Governorship of Crete offered him by the Powers. An Assembly of Cretan Notables will be called to ratify the Home Rule project proposed.

Budapest, 28th—It is raining in torrents all over Hungary; railway communication is interrupted, and the peasantry in many districts have been flooded out of their huts.

Rome, 28th:—Parliament's change of policy with reference to the African Question is attracting great attention. The Opposition Deputies have now turned round and accept the Army Budget with reference to Erythrea Colony. The discussion of the estimates lasted twenty minutes.

Deptford, 28th—One thousand six hundred and sixty five Argentine steers were sold to-day at prices ranging from 32 to 36 pence per stone, also 6830 wethers at 40 to 42 pence per stone.

London, 28th—Argentine frozen beef sells at 23 to 24 pence per stone.

Madrid, 28th—It is asserted Mr. Emilio Castelar will be appointed to the post of Minister at Washington. It is stated that the present Minister has expressed a wish to resign, as he is not on the best of terms with Secretary Sherman.

Washington, 28th—Senator Dabel last night gave a lecture on the present situation of Cuba and the necessity for American citizens aiding the rebels to gain their freedom. He finally stated that President McKinley should interfere at once.

London, 28th—The sudden return of Munir Pacha to Constantinople and his absence from the Jubilee Procession was due to the Sultan's Representative fearing he might be subjected to hostile manifestations here. The Sultan's Special Ambassador arrived two days before the Procession, and was immediately advised of the animosity of the British people towards Turkey on account of the reported massacres in Thessaly. His departure is much commented on by the members of the Diplomatic Corps, and they believe that it will give rise to difficulties in reference to the negotiations for peace between Turkey and Greece.

THIS MORNING'S TELEGRAMS.

(Received after Midnight)

Paris, 28th—The police found last night in the Champs Elisées an infernal machine of devilish power, presumably placed there to blow up some private carriage. The criminal has not been traced.

Washington, 28th—Mr. Secretary Sherman has expressed himself in favour of restriction of monopolies, adding that it was a subject to which President McKinley's Government was giving great attention.

Leghorn, 28th—The new Portuguese iron-clad Adamastor was launched to-day, and the trials carried out were perfectly successful.

Canea, 28th—The Admirals have sent to-day troops to surround Hierapetra to prevent any collision between the Turkish garrison and the insurgents outside the city.

Constantinople, 28th—The Greco-Turkish peace-negotiations are almost concluded. The point still at issue is a demand from the Sultan's Government that over and above the indemnity, which will probably be reduced to 4½ million Turkish pounds, some district of Thessalia be surrendered to Turkey. It is believed that a concession in this respect will be accorded by the Powers.

Berlin, 28—The Imperial Chancellor Prince Hohenlohe and the New Minister for Foreign Affairs, Baron von Bülow, held to-day a secret conference of 4 hours duration with Prince Bismarck in Friedrichsruhe. The event has caused universal surprise.

Rome, 28th—The debate on the Budget was concluded to-day, the estimates being voted almost in exactly the same terms as these passed by the lower House.

London, 28th—The Queen returned to Windsor this evening after the garden-part at Buckingham Palace, at which Her Majesty was present for several hours in her carriage.

Dr. Jameson, of raid-fame, left to-day for the Cape.

Madrid, 28th—Reinforcements, for General Weyler, to the number of 20,000 are to leave for Cuba in September.

A wall in Ciudad Real fell to-day killing 9 children and seriously injuring many others.

London, 28th—The Secondary Bill was thrown out to-day as a reply to the Queen's Jubilee. Mr. Balfour censured the attitude of the Irish members and said that discussion with them was, for the moment, impossible.

When the unfavourable vote had been accorded the members on the Government side of the House returned from the party at Buckingham Palace, and then Mr. Balfour obtained a vote for the temporary closing of the House.

THE MORTGAGE BILLS.

At a moment that the financial ambient is full of rumors of settlements of provincial foreign debts, the market has been somewhat disappointed that the very first Bills from the Finance Office should deal with what may be termed matters of secondary importance It was understood in nearly all circles that the Full Pay Programme, entailing full payment of interest on the national debt, would be followed up by a comprehensive plan that would once and for ever disentangle the complicated maze that confounded both national and provincial obligations abroad. In common with the majority, we thought that the Minister was busily engaged in settling those accounts and forming a plan whereby all those provinces that held National guarantee bonds would be enabled to come to terms with their foreign creditors. We need not dwell upon the solemn fact that as long as these provincial foreign loans, indirectly guaranteed by the nation, hang fire and are dishonored it is idle to talk of a definite platform or policy of national financing. No wonder, therefore, if we must confess our surprise that the very first bills of the Finance Minister to Congress should deal with such financial side-lights us a reform of the National Mortgage Bank, and of the procedure of mortgage foreclosures in this market.

The presentation of these Bills at the present moment does not appear timely or in harmony with the expectations entertained in the country at large; but both bills find a plausible explanation when we study the antecedents of our excellent Finance Minister. The reform of the National Mortgage Bank Charter is an old plan of Dr. Escalante, framed years ago, when he was named President of the Bank. His plan was never carried out, but be always cherished the hope of seeing it put in force. Now, as Finance-minister of the nation, the moment could not be more propitious, and, with his valued experience in the management of the Bank which he steered through all the shoals of the crisis, no man is in a better position to know the requirements of the concern, the reforms that are called for, or to defend the Bill of Reform that is now before the House. This Bank Bill is the old plan revived, rejuvenated with a few improvements: the details are known to our readers, and none can gainsay their plausible character. But one and all are agreed that, since the Bank has pulled through the crisis with such exceptional good fortune, since the stock of the Bank is at such a satisfactory level, why not leave well alone? There is force in the argument, in so far that we have had so much experimental financing of late years that the market views any change with instinctive suspicion. Much as we applaud the main idea of the Bill, giving Cedula holders adequate representation on the Board, we admit our invincible conservatism, and with the market would prefer to see the Charter of the Bank untouched. And who knows what amendments Congress may not think fit to interpolate when the Bill comes up? In all financial discussions in Congress the market writhes, always on the "qui vive," smarting under bitter experience, and frightened at the eventualities that may turn up in the Senate or Deputies.

With regard to the second Bill on the reform of legal procedure in foreclosures the market at large applauds the intentions of the Minister, who has a very mellowed experience of mortgage business in all its phases in this market. Dr. Escalante sees the defects of the "retro-venta" and mortgage procedure observed in our midst: and there could be no more eloquent condemnation of the whole system than the inveterate dislike of capital to embark in such operations. Even the time-honoured "retro-venta" has been rudely shaken by the jurisprudence of late years, and the finale is that the real-estate holders cannot mortgage in the open market unless at usurious rates. By increasing guarantees, by shortening procedure, Dr. Escalante's Mortgage Bill would be a boon to the market, and the 12 % to 18 % per annum mortgage rates should fall to a normal money-market rate.

But, as we have stated, plausible as both Bills are, and creditable to the industry of the Minister, they are but sidelights in the financial policy which has not yet been revealed in any tangible form beyond the abstract statements contained in the President's Message. The market wants to know what Dr. Escalante will do with the provincial foreign debts—the corner-stone of any national financial policy at the present juncture.

MR. BARRINGTON'S BANQUET.

Last night H.M's. Minister, the Hon. W. A. C. Barrington gave a banquet in the top parlors of George Mercer's Restaurant to the members of the Diamond Jubilee Committee of which he is Chairman. The saloons were beautifully festooned in the very best taste and reflected the greatest credit upon Monsieur Mercer. We may here enter an apology for intruding upon the sacred precincts of the Ladies' Club, owing to the architectural improvements going on in the great restaurant. At eight o'clock sharp the following gentlemen sat down:—

Hon. W. A. C. Barrington; to his right Captain Gamble of H.M.S. Beagle; to his left, the Rev. J. W. Fleming; Messrs. J. C. Zimmermann, A. Mackintosh, H. C. Thompson, Barrow, Roberts, Russell, Mulhall, Runciman, Juan Drysdale, Gumpert, Boadle, Warden, Watson, Handcock, Mills. The following was the "menú":—

When the champagne fizzed in the glasses, the Hon. V. A. C, Barrington rose and proposed The Queen—drunk with all honours.

Mr. Andrew Mackintosh, the leading merchant, then rose and in graceful terms proposed the health of the Chairman of the Committee, Mr. Barrington, H.M.'s. Minister Plenipotentiary and Envoy Extraordinary. In the most felicitous terms he called attention to the signal services of the Minister as Chairman of the Jubilee Committee; thanks to his indefatigable efforts everything had passed off brilliantly; not the least feature of the Jubilee Celebration being the participation of the Argentine Government in all the feasts. Thanks to Mr. Barrington, the President and his Ministers had attended the Pinafore representation, sent a representative to the Thanksgiving Service, and decked out with bunting all the five Argentine men-of-war in the docks. The toast was drunk with great cheers.

Minister Barrington thanked in cordial terms and proposed the health of the President of the Argentine Republic; all rose to drink to H.E.

Mr. Barrington then begged to propose the health of the Secretary of the Committee, the Rev. J. W. Fleming, and of the Treasurer, Mr. R. Inglis Runciman, on whom the brunt of the work of the Committee had fallen. With exquisite tact he called attention to the burden they had borne in the national cause, and their health were toasted with full honours.

Mr. Runciman replied at length, begging to state that both he and the Rev. J. W. Fleming had but done their duty towards the British community and were prepared to do much more. Thunderous applause greeted Mr. Runciman's speech.

Then followed an interlude of piano playing and songs by Captain Gamble of the Beagle and Mr. H. C. Thompson. Both gentlemen played and sang to perfection: national ditties were encored and the chorus rang through Mercer's and reached the Calle Florida.

The convivial proceedings were closed by a speech by Mr. W. F. Mulhall, who begged to propose a toast quite outside the official etiquette. Mr. Barrington, he said, had crossed the ocean, making one stride from the Ring Strasse in Vienna, to the Calle Florida, from the splendor of the Habsburg Court to the democratic entourage of a South American democracy; yet he had so identified himself with the British community that we might claim him as an old friend. We had even seen him make speeches at the distribution of prizes to children. On this occasion, and at this hour of the night, he begged to propose the health, not of Her Majesty's Minister, nor of the Chairman of the Jubilee Committee, but of the warm and genial friend who had won in so short a time our esteem and our affection. Great applause. This wound up a most pleasant evening, and to the accents of God Save the Queen, played by Mr. H. C. Thompson, the company broke up. The banquet will long be remembered by all the guests as one of the most pleasant on memory's tablets.

THE DIAMOND DERBY.

London, June 3, 1897.

Ireland for ever with the sky over it! was the shout that echoed over the Epsom Downs as the great Irish horse, Galtee More, won by two lengths the greatest race in the world to-day—the far-famed Derby.

Accepting the very kind invitation of Mr. and Mrs. William Samson to join their party on the top of a stage coach, we drove down tour in hand in splendid style. The coach might be called Argentina, as, with the exception of the driver and guard, we were all from the Plate. Our party consisted of

Mr. and Mrs. William Samson
Mr. and Mrs. Ravenscroft.
Mr. and Mrs Balfour
Mrs. Hamilton Langley
Mr. Wineberg
Mr. and Mrs. Mulhall
Miss Nina Mulhall.

The drive down through the suburbs and outskirts of London was excitingly delightful. We pulled up at Putney Hill House, the residence of Mr. H. G. Anderson, former Manager of the London and River Plate Bank, but found he had left for the city, possibly gone to buy cedulas. The weather was splendid and the country looked most charming, but it was very hard work driving through the roads, avenues, and lanes, owing to the crush of coaches, cabs, carts, omnibuses and every imaginable kind of vehicle. I think I never before in my life saw such a moving crowd. 'Twas my first visit to the Derby, and hence had all the freshness and glory of first impressions. Everything for me was new. It was one o'clock when we arrived at the course, but the block up was so great that there was really no getting backward or forward. They charged two guineas for the coach ticket to enter the course, but there were 500 coaches ahead of us that had also paid their two guineas and could not get in. The police, however, soon made way for the coaches, and after a world of bother and tipping Mr. Samson got his coach into a splendid place, almost in front of the stand for royalty. Around us was what is called the club enclosure, where almost every one of note in the turf world was to be seen. The Royal party, which was alongside of us, included

The Prince and Princess of Wales
Duke of Saxe Coburg
Duke and Duchess of York
Duke of Connaught
Duke of Cambridge
Prince Christian
The King of the Belgians
King of Wurtemburg, and Prince Charles of Denmark.

But for Mr. Samson and Mr. Ravenscroft I never should have known the names of the Royal party, but they seem to know every one from Buckingham Palace just as if they were from Villa Devoto or Belgrano. Prince Soltykoff and Prince Louis Esterhazy had their coach alongside. I think I saw Dr. Hanly and Mrs. Hanly and Dr. Coulbourne chatting with Lord Rosebery and Lord Fitzwilliam. Mr. Preston, Mr. Lumb, Mr. Drabble, Mr. Parish and others were there.

Mr. Gubbins, the happy owner of Galtee More, passed frequently beside us, he looked almost as happy before the race as when he went proudly out to lead the winner into the weighing inclosure, he has a good humoured rubicund face, glowing with delight, light, winning Irish blue eyes and sandy, golden hair. Mr L. Rothschild was the first to slap him on the back in congratulation. Wood, the famous jockey, who has now ridden the winners of three Derbies, stood quite close to us, chatting confidently about his horse. He it was who rode San Blas, the winner of the Derby some years ago, when my old friend Don Nicolas Lowe won a cool hundred, by betting for the fun of the thing on a horse with so familiar a name. We all anxiously watched the horses when they left for the starting post, most of them were dancing and breaking away, but I noted that Galtee More was very quiet. When the flag fell Prime Minister raced away eagerly with the lead; Galtee More made no premature effort, though some of the others went rushing after the impetuos leader, the Prince of Wales' horse Oakdene among them. But half-way up the hill, Galtee More without any seeming effort, had come into the front cluster. When the horses got into the straight, it was in a long straggling line, at the head of which Galtee More soon took his place. Velasquez (Lord Rossbery's horse) tried his best, but his best was not good enough against the Irish horse, and the moment Wood saw fit to move him, Galtee More shot ahead amidst the roar of the mighty crowd, and to everybody's delight, won easily. The rest were tailed up the course. In fact I was so excited standing on top of the mail coach, watching the first Irish horse that ever won the Derby, that I very nearly toppled over. All the bands on the course struck up St Patrick's day, and there was nothing heard from the Downs to London, but "Hip, hip hurrah for Old Ireland, the Prince of Wales being one of the loudest in the cheers.

Mr Jack Gubbins, the owner of Galtee More, is perhaps to-day, the most famous Irishman in the United Kingdom. The Gubbins family is well known in County Limerick. The little straggling village of Bruree takes its name from Bruree House, the residence of the Gubbinses for the last 300 years. Mr Gubbins has always been a good landlord and a great sportsman. For years he spent £60 a week keeping a pack of hounds down the village of Bruree, but hard times came, rents fell off, hunting languished, and but for a near relative, Mr Wise, a Cork distiller, who left all his large fortune to Jack Gubbins, it is probable an Irish horse would not have carried off Queen

Victoria's Jubilee Derby. But Mr Gubbins was too good a specimen of the Irish sportsman, pleasant, jolly, and not too calculating, to remain long out of his element. So when things quieted down in Ireland, the Irish racing community was delighted to hear that Mr Jack Gubbins was again going in for horses. The Derby winner takes his name from the famous Galtee More mountain in the range that towers above the country between Bruree House and the border of Tipperary. Bonfires were lighted last night on the highest peaks of the Galtee range, as there was jubilation not only in Bruree, but throughout the length and breadth of Old Ireland. The drive back to London was a tremendous business. Everyone seemed in good humour, the evening was delicious, and strange to say, I noted that even in the ladies' dresses and hats, green was the predominant colour. It was a veritable wearing of the green, and the gay colours of the laburnum, the rhododendrons, the hawthorn and the chestnut blended prettily along the road from Epsom. It was in every sense a Jubilee Derby day, and all England seemed proud that dear old Ireland won it.

Yours,

Dr. Syntax.

LONDON LETTER.

"A GRAND AMEN."

(From our own Correspondent)

May 28th.

In another letter I have referred to the prayer of the blind chaplain on the opening of the proceedings of the United States Senate. These are the words—"O thou who art King of Kings we bless thee for the long and illustrious reign of thy servant the gracious sovereign lady Queen Victoria, whose conduct and character as daughter, wife and mother, as well as illustrious sovereign have enshrined her in the hearts and reverence of true-hearted men and women around the world. So endow and guide the councils of that realm and of our own beloved country that hand in hand they may tread the path of conservative progress to the goal of Christian civilisation until the Prince of the Kings of the earth, the first begotten from the dead, shall become monarch of all hearts and all lives in our race."

A loud Amen seems to rise from the voices of the righteous and is echoed in the dome of St. Peter's at Rome, where amidst religious pomp and circumstance, and in the immediate presence of the Supreme Pontiff, the Blessed Antonio Maria Zaccaria, the founder of the Canons Regular of St. Paul, better known as Barnabites, and the Blessed Peter Fourrier, called the Apostle of Lorraine, have been canonised, a ceremony described in detail and commented upon with reverence by the most protestant, the most Radical, the bitterest non-conformist journal in England—the Daily Chronicle. Its own correspondent in Epirus, Mr. Charles Williams, has just branded its friends the Greeks as a worthless mob. Alone amongst the morning papers of London it quotes the New York World, which in regard to Sir Ellis Ashmead Bartlett's interview with the Sultan says, on the authority of a member of the Diplomatic Corps—"One of the most interesting diplomatic stories of the times lies behind the World's publication on Sunday. It will yet make a commotion in Europe which will cause thrones to totter. Sir Philip Currie could write an interesting story of his life in Constantinople, if he desired to give an interview dealing with the private talks he has had with the Sultan". The Chronicle also publishes an interview with M. de Rochefort, editor of the Intransigeant, who first gave publicity to the libel against the German Emperor, for which a Cairo paper is now being prosecuted. M. de Rochefort says that the libel was not quite true, for instead of the German Emperor being paid for his services by the Sultan at the rate of six millions of francs, it ought to have been and was six millions of pounds sterling.

The Chronicle also quotes Vindex in the June number of the Fortnightly Review, who warns John Bull to look after his spoons, for Lord Salisbury has been fooled and the European conspiracy of Emperors to drive England out of Egypt and to destroy her trade in the Levant for the benefit of Russian and German commercial interests, is already ripe for action as soon as the trifling Greek business is settled. The good Chronicle, like many others, must wonder how the grand "Amen" from Washington and Rome can ascend to heaven through the sickening vapours of self interest which emanate from the thrones of the earth, official seats of the earth and from every homes. In to-day's Chronicle you find a sermon from Mr. Oscar Wilde, writes upon the horrors of our prison —especially in reference to children of whom are not condemned but on remand. There is nothing heartless or cruel in our laws, governors, matrons, etc., also warders. But the rigid discipline which sacks a warder for giving a biscuit to a hungry child or assisting a sick prisoner in the emptying of his cell slops, ends in cruelty, while the iron regularity of departamental duty and the callousness of mere slaves to duty close the door to reform and to the real benevolence of the nation. Mr. Oscar Wilde is not a model anti-individualistic apostle but curious instruments are often chosen for a good work. We English are so petrified by custom it requires a disaster to open our eyes. Rhodes-worship and duke-worship and the belief that all things are forgiven to us in the sacred cause of Imperialism and commercial interests have been rudely shaken by the Jameson raid and the consequent South African Committee. The dogmatic Mr. Labouchere has learned his lesson. He cannot with impunity accuse people even of the Beit and Rutherford Harris clique of bearing the Kaffir market, and not be able to subtantiate his charges. For Flora Shaw's evidence and Mr. Labouchere's apology to Mr. Harris, and the scenes in committee between Messrs. Beit and Harris and Mr. Labouchere, I must ask you to consult the enclosures. Mr. Labouchere has been censured—illegally it seems—by the committee, and the whole matter will be referred to parliament, where some of these gentlemen will figure at the bar of the House. Mr. Harris is not satisfied with Mr. Labouchere's apology, and if the Times and Rhodes clique are sound in their repudiation of the charges, the whole question may be reopened in the ordinary courts. Mr. Hawksley the solicitor for Mr. Rhodes refuses to deliver certain telegrams from the last named gentleman. The solicitor will have to appear at the bar of the House. The person most interested, or in whose share in the Jameson raid we take most interest ourselves, is Mr. Chamberlain. There is such a complete political topsy-turvey-dom going on through the ascendancy in the Cabinet of Mr. Chamberlain, that we do not know if we are governed at home by Tories or by Socialists, while abroad the whole tendency of affairs is in favour of a reaction towards an absolute or at least a paternal monarchy. Towards this last, on the Elizabethan model, Lord Salisbury leans. Meanwhile, he is working honestly for better terms for the Greeks. Beyond this there is no need to say one word in regard to the negotiations going on in Constantinople. Ere this reaches you, you will be better informed than we are, who have to trust to the diversified opinions of newspaper correspondents.

CUBA.

According to the telegrams the wet and hot season in Cuba is causing a most alarming increase in the number of cases of the worst form of yellow fever, dysentary, etc., which diseases are ravaging the island. It is stated that there are 20,000 cases of these severe sicknesses in the province of Havana alone. There is a great lack of doctors, medicines, hospitals and even beds in the improvised hospitals in the sugar store-houses. The misery that obtains in the country districts has driven thousands of half-starved and needy people into the towns, and tends to greatly increase the gravity of the situation.

The Government troops are reported to be suffering terribly from small-pox and typhus fever as well as from yellow fever. In fact the sanitary condition of the island would seem to be fully as bad as the political condition.

General Weyler is at present on his way to the Eastern part of the island, having established his headquarters and base for operating against the rebels in the Eastern provinces at Zaza, and as usual, when he is away from the vicinity of Havana, important engagements are reported in Managua, Madruga, and Jaruco in that province where the rebels have appeared in force.

Throughout the South of the U. States, large subscriptions of money and arms for the Cuban causes are being made. In all the Southern States the feeling of sympathy for Cuba is said to be considerably stronger than in the North.

We presume that little more will be heard of the new policy, that the American Government is said to be about to pursue, in the Cuban question until the arrival of the new U. States Minister in Madrid.

HOPE OF CAMPANA

LODGE OF GOOD TEMPLARS

THE QUEEN'S JUBILEE

The members of this Lodge, to the number of twenty-five, met at their 'locale,' 380 Calle Paraná, Campana, on Thursday evening, 24th inst. After the customary business had been transacted, the room was got in readiness for the holding of the banquet which had been arranged for in commemoration of Her Majesty's Jubilee.

The walls of the spacious apartment were tastefully adorned with the Argentine, English, and other flags, the 'Union Jack,' of course, preponderating, while overhead, from one extreme to the other, and across the room, were suspended in graceful festoons the blue-white-and-blue colours of Argentina. The effect, as may be imagined, was picturesque in the extreme, eliciting an unanimous expression of pleasure from all present, who accorded a hearty vote of thanks to Mrs Frost and her daughter, to whose good taste and deft fingers were due the decorations which added so much animation to the scene. Everything being in readiness, the company sat down to a sumptuously prepared collation. Bro. F.B. Frost, L.D., was unanimously voted to the Chair, while Sis. Frost, C.T., was his right-hand supporter. After a blessing had been asked, the Chairman called upon all to sing 'God save the Queen!', which was heartily responded to, whereupon an attack was made upon the good things provided, of which there was neither lack nor want of variety, and to which full justice was done. A very enjoyable hour was spent in this manner, and at its conclusion, the musical and literary programme which had been drawn up was begun.

Bro. J. B. Frost L. D., opened the proceedings by delivering a well-prepared speech in eulogy of Her in whose homage we had met together that evening. He touched upon the great good that had accrued in various ways to the world at large during Her Majesty's glorious reign, not the least among which was the institution of Good Templars, which had been, and is being, under God, instrumental in raising up men who had fallen victims to the terrible curse of intemperance, by extending to them the right hand of loving fellowship, and making them realize that they were not left to fight their battle alone against their most subtle enemy "Strong Drink." He spoke at length on the work of the Order at large, and of the work that was being done by ths Lodge since it started a short time back in Campana. Bro. Frost's address was "to the point", and was well received. Song, speech, and recitation followed in their respective order—and one o'clock on Friday morning had struck before the joyous company reluctantly made up their minds to separate.

It was regretted, and a resolution to that effect was passed that Bros. Neil and Marshall, Financial Secretary and General Secretary, should both have been debarred attending owing to the serious accident met with on Tuesday morning; and were it not for the fact that the Lodge was assured that there were no fears of fatal consequences ensuing therefrom, that night's gathering would most certainly have been postponed.

A few details of the accident may prove interesting. On Tuesday morning it had been arranged that a salute of 21 guns should be fired at sunrise. Some had already been fired, and as Messrs. Marshall, Neil, Castro and Ricotti were about to fire off another the charge exploded, causing the large oaken plug to fly out from the end of the mortar and injure the four persons named more or less seriously. Mr. Marshall received a large portion of the powder in the face and eyes, splinters of the wood imbedding themselves all over his face; both hands were much lacerated, while a portion of the top of his thumb was taken clean away. We saw him to-day, and are glad to say he is progressing favourably, the sight not being injured. Mr. Neil, also, had a narrow escape. A large and jagged portion of the plug struck him on the right breast, passing through a thick overcoat, undercoat, wistcoat, right through till it imbedded itself deep in the flesh, causing a wound half-an-inch deep, and three inches long. It was providential it had not gone through him; his thick clothes saved him. All under the right arm and down the side the flesh is discoloured. Both patients are in able medical hands and are being carefully attended, and though certainly serious, their wounds are not considered fatal. The man Castro is considered the worst victim, inasmuch as he received a terrible blow on the knee-cap, which has swollen to great extent. Part of the cloth from his trousers is supposed to have lodged in the flesh, though the doctors have not succeeded in finding it out. He is suffering great pain, as may readily be surmised. The man Risotti received a splinter of wood about two inches long which imbedded itself in his neck, fortunately without penetrating the throat, though it occasioned some difficulty in extracting it. He is doing well.

You will perceive from the foregoing that the accident was serious, and, in a measure, cast a gloom over both days' festivities, which went off, with this exception, without a single hitch to mar the general rejoicings.

Yours faithfully

P. C. F.

SAILORS' HOME.

Mr. R. J. McQueen gave one of his popular concerts on Saturday night, before a large and appreciative audience.

The concert opened with a well executed pianoforte solo by Miss Nicholson, after which Mr. J. Dingle sang "The Vagabond" with his usual taste and ability. Miss Diggs then sang "O take me back again Katheen" and was loudly encored. Mr. Doull in his comic songs "Miss Mulligan's home—made pie" and "Ting a ling" was most amusing and had to reappear. Mr. D. A. Williams in the "Storm Fiend" was heard to great advantage. Mr. Lesslie Wilson was in splendid voice, his singing of "Ora pro nobis" drew forth loud applause. The comic coster-song "No more at Covent Garden" was splendidly rendered by Mr. Humphries. The first part closed with a violin solo given with Mr. McQueen's well known ability. In the second part the same singers again appeared. We append the programme.

SPORT.

NOTES AND ANTICIPATIONS.

With all the racing we have had of late it is not easy to pick winners, as horses tire like men, especially in this country, where they are frequently to the fore two or three times a week. Some very promising candidates, therefore, will have to be eliminated as non-runners, though it is none too sure that they will be given a rest. The classic to-day is the Libertad Stakes, which has the pick of the cracks in training engaged. We shall probably see Lavalle, Colombia, Argentino, Rosemary, Sebastopol, Violin, Pergamino, Ney, and Pitanga strip for it, a nice batch certainly, which Purran and Ranquel may round up. It is a race that calls up great memories, the list of winners numbering Esperanza, Eridan, Buenos Aires, Etoile and Alcaide, a splendid roll-call truly. We hardly think Argentino, Colombia, or Pergamino will like the distance, 2000 metres; Sebastopol grows old and Lavalle is not in trim just yet. Violin has made such a poor classic show that he can be discarded, so that only Ney and Pitanga are left. Either will figure with credit and honour on the list of previous winners, and we shall expect to see the pair fight the finish out. In the opening event Sorpresa, Damara, Orleans and Nemo have to be chosen from, and perhaps it would be as well to take them in the order named. In the second only three seem to stand out—Gavotte, Nobleza and Primavera, of which Gavotte should have the choice, whilst in the other two-year-old event Doblete looks the handiest. In the long distance, Minerva, Jean Bart and Talma form a nice trio, hard to separate, though we fancy Talma, and the Ecurie Prisionero seem to have an easy thing with Daza in the sprint. But for Rayon D'Or having had such a surfeit of races in the past 10 days or so, he would be a very taking candidate for the final, and therefore we prefer Meteoro or Salteador. Our selections are:

Gaviota Stakes—Damara or Sorpresa.
Py " —Gavotte.
Libertad " —Ney or Pitanga.
Marature " —Talma or Jean Bart.
Espora " —Doblete.
Thorne " —Meteoro or Salteador.

RAILWAY AND OTHER ITEMS.

The ninth ordinary general meeting of the Buenos Ayres New Tramway Company, Limited was held last month in London:—

The Chairman said: Gentlemen, as you have taken the report and acccunts as read, I will call your attention to those items which appear to require comment on the debit side of the balance sheet. The two first items remain the same, the Prior Lien Bonds have been increased from £45,782 to £50,000, which is the full amount the company can issue. The accident fund has been increased by about £400, sundry creditors are about £150 more, and include the accrued interest on Prior Lien Bonds. The Debenture holders unprovided interest account stands at £35,208 6s. 8d. The amount carried from the profits of the year to the undivided interest account is £4,875, which will be distributed on the 30th June next. Turning now to the credit side you will see there has been expended on capital account £5,304 11s. 4d. We have for that an entirely new northern station on the Puente Alsina section, which we were compelled to build, as the authorities required us to remove from the stables which we rented. The new stables are infinitely more commodious and convenient, and they cost £2,868. At the other end of the Puente Alsina section the station and lines have been greatly improved at a cost of £1,345. These two items together amount to £4,213, and the remainder has been spent in other additions and improvements. All the other items except the last speak for themselves. They relate to sundry debtors, cash, expenses in connection with issue of Prior Lien Bonds, and call for no special comment. The large item of £65,089 14s. 10d., to which it is my duty always to call your attention, is made up, as you know, entirely of overdue interest to our debenture holders, although £20,000 has been satisfied by the issue of Prior Lien mortgage bonds. The time will come, and I hope soon, when we shall have to undertake some reorganisation of our capital account. All the items of capital expenditure which I have mentioned to you are of permanent advantage to the company, excepting, of course, the item of paving. I fear that so long as the Municipality continue to pave the streets through which this tramway runs we shall have to face expenditure under this head. I called your attention last year to the unreasonable amount of taxes imposed on tramway enterprise in Buenos Ayres. The taxes paid by this company in the year 1895 were $77,584, which, converted at the average rate of that year, was £4,500, or 10·47 per cent. of the gross receipts. This year the same taxes amount to $80,336, or at the average exchange of the year, £5,384 9s. 7d., or 10·49 per cent. of the gross receipts.

LOMAS CHORAL SOCIETY.

Judging from the audiences that attend the entertainments that are periodically given by the Lomas Choral Society and the Buenos Aires Choral Union, the English speaking Community cannot be said to be attracted by concerts pure and simple. A comic opera of the flimsiest kind will crowd our very largest theatre, but when the highest class music by renowned masters is given, the audience is meagre in the extreme, and this want of appreciation on the part of our fellow-countrymen is a reflection on their musical taste. Not only this, but it is anything but encouraging to the ladies and gentlemen who give so much of their time, and take so much trouble to provide amusement for the long winter evenings. The concert given by the Lomas Choral Society last night in Prince George's Hall was attended by something like 200 people when, considering the class of music on the programme and the well knwn excellence of the choir, the hall should have been crammed.

The excellent band, which we understand was selected by Prof. Pini, having played the Argentine National Anthem, the choir next gave "God Save the Queen," as arranged by Sir. Michael Costa, and thus early was the training of the choir manifested. Mendelsohn's "Lobgesang" or "Hymn of Praise" followed, the solos being taken by Mrs. Bennett, Mrs. P. Boyd and the Rev. E. G. Cocks. This was remarkably well given throughout, but special mention must be made of the duet "I waited for the Lord" by Mrs. Bennett and Mrs. Boyd, the solo and chorus "The night is Departing," which was beautifully sung, the duet by Mrs. P. Boyd and Mr. Cocks "My song shall alway be thy mercy" and the final chorus "Ye nations."

Sir Arthur Sullivan's "Te Deum" concluded the Concert. The music in this hymn is grand in the extreme, and was done full justice to. The opening chorus "We praise Thee, O God," was good, and led up to the "To thee Cherubim," the solo of which was beautifully sung by Mrs. Bennett, and the chorus, with an amount of majesty that befitted the glorious music. Mrs. Bennett was equally successful in her solos "When Thou lookest upon Thee" and "O Lord save Thy people," both of which were sung with great feeling.

The choruses throughout were splendidly given, and reflect equal credit upon Mr. H. Wall, the conductor, and those who had ranged themselves under his baton. As we have before said, it is a matter of great regret that so few were present to appreciate the efforts of those who gave the concert.

CONGRESS.

DEPUTIES

June 28th

The stately rebuff administered to the Deputies was the principal event of yesterday's sitting. It runs as follows; "The Executive has received the note of the president of the Chamber of Deputies containing the words of the resolution voted by the Chamber; and in reply must state that, proceeding within its own Constitutional faculties and conforming with the principles of international rights, it has always acted jealously in defence of the sovereignty of the Republic and for the security of its commerce, and has never needed, nor needs to-day, any incitement to perform its duty.

May God guard the President.

JOSÉ E. URIBURU,
Amancio Alcorta."

Dr. Davila delivered a very long speech regretting that the Executive, in answering the resolution which he (Dávila) had fathered, had not given further details.

Deputy Gilbert thereupon remarked that the Government had perfectly fulfilled its duty, since in reply to an opinion expressed by the Chamber, an answer had been given emitting another opinion.

Dr. Dávila retorted that he did not require lessons from any one; to which Gilbert replied—neither does the Government.

With this the whole matter ended—as well as general interest in the day's sitting.

LA PLATA

(From our own Correspondent.)

June 28th.

The Minister of Public Works has decided that, if within 5 days from date Messrs. Repetto and Co. do not sign the contract for erecting bridges on the several roads for which concession has been given to them, their deposit as guarantee shall be forfeited.

To fill the vacancies in the Agronomical and Veterinary Council, Government has named the following gentlemen:—Dr. Florentino M. Ameghino, Desiderio Davel, Engineer Orlando Williams and Angel Etcheverry.

The tracing and measurement of the new town of Alejandro Alem, in Lincoln partido, has been approved. It is on Colonel Martin Irigoyen's estancia "La Cueva", which almost adjoins the late Mr. Grigg's large property, about half way between Lincoln and Pehuajó.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Another holiday to-day readers, and we hope you'll enjoy it, but we shan't, as we are clean sick of all the "dias feriados" we have had this month. There is nothing new on the amusement card for you. Yesterday was so bitterly cold that you are likely to shiver again to-day. However, that's nothing. There was n't an over-abundance of local news yesterday, although matters political were said to be fairly lively, without meeting the public. In old England the Jubilee wound up yesterday with a grand Garden Party at Buckingham Palace at which Her Majesty was present. The shuffling and tricking of His sublimity in the peace negotiations, his war preparations, and the open violation of the armistice had seriously alarmed all Europe, and it looked as if something far worse than the month's scuffle between Greek and Turk was at hand. But the last telegrams are far more hopeful.

The demand for our Weekly Packet Edition yesterday was so great, to send home the accounts of the Jubilee, the accident to Consul Baker, the opening of the Docks, etc., that we have struck off some few hundreds more, which will be on sale at our office all day, as it is no holiday for us.

The Ensenada Railway Company will reduce its rate for monthly tickets from 1st prox., owing to its distance being shorter by a mile now, with Yellow House for a terminus.

Consul Baker got up yesterday for 20 minutes or half an hour, and felt none the worse for it. He continues to progress in a most satisfactory manner.

We feel very much pleasure in welcoming back to the Plate Dr. Karl Wentzel, Chief Surgeon of the German Hospital, after an 8 months' trip to his Fatherland. His hosts of friends rejoice at having him in their midst again.

The death of the venerable merchant, Mr. John Shaw, on Sunday night caused very sincere regret in both English and Argentine circles. He came to Buenos Aires over half a century ago, soon learned to love his adopted country as well as his own, married, and has left a full quiver of descendants in prominent mercantile positions here and in Montevideo. The Grim Reaper spared him to a fine old age. We offer his family our sincere condolence on their loss. The funeral takes place this morning at 10 o'clock from No. 4 Calle Venezuela.

We are requested to state for the information of the Yacht Club members that advices just to hand from Moore Turdor and Co report the shipment of the "Doris" from London on the 5th inst by the "Castillian Prince", and the 'Daphne' from Liverpool by Cyrene on the 26th inst.

Poor King Leopold! Emperor Second to None has made him an Admiral of the German fleet. This will put him to the useless expense of a gorgeous uniform, as His Majesty does not know one end of a row-boat from another.

There was doleful news from Santa-Fé yesterday. In spite of the intense cold, the Locusts are still there, and only a few of the patriarchs of the tribes have succumbed to it. The young and middle aged are as jolly as if they all had warm underclothing and top-coats. Rather piscatorial prospects for the "Smiling Spring her earliest visit pays".

What's this? A joke of our breezy evening colleague El Diario? What do you think it says ladies? That in Montevideo ten years is considered quite a short time to be engaged to be married, and that "compromisos" often extend to 15, 20, and even thirty years!! Oh!

Gracious! There were no fewer than 19 suicides in this city the month of May, and one of them was by a boy of only 15 years of age!!

Second thoughts are always best. We received the following note yesterday from pious and learned Cordoba:

Cordoba, 26th, 1897.

Dear STANDARD,

I must retract my statement made in your valuable paper, for after all the Jubilee arrangements turned out a great success in every sense of the word. "God Save the Queen."

Yours truly.

Englishman.

The Jubilee is now all but over at home, except a lot of grand balls and other high jinks to be given by private parties to the crowd of distinguished visitors who will linger for some time yet in the Metro olis of the World. Jubilee Notes and Reminiscences are now the correct thing. France avenged Trafalgar at Spithead. The steamer Versailles, chartered for the occasion by a millionaire French manufacturer, beat the head, hands and feet off all the vast number of yachts, steamers and all kinds of craft in the illuminations at night. She appeared as if covered all over with an enormous lace veil of the very finest texture, spotted with red and blue moons. As she steamed about in all directions stentorian cheers of admiration broke from the hundreds of craft around. She looked like a fairy vision from the best half of the next world. No one present had ever before seen, on land or sea, in any part of the world, such a novel and artistic illumination of a ship.

On Thursday next there will be in the Merced Church and the Scotch Church a "simpatica" wedding to which a large number of well-known members of the English-speaking community have been invited, and which will certainly be one of the nuptial events of the season. We allude to the marriage of Mr. Andrew M. Wilson and Miss Tessie Browne, daughter of our late lamented friend Mr. John Browne of Lujan. We join the hosts of friends of the happy couple in sincerely wishing them every happiness and prosperity through life.

Santiago society at large, especially the North American section of it, is by no means pleased with President Mc Kinley, the head and front of whose offending is that he has named Mr. Henry L. Willson as United States Minister, to replace Mr. Strobel, who is as supremely popular there with both the Government and society as his colleague Mr. Buchanan is here. Mr. Strobel is a very distinguished diplomatist, and, strange to say, is the first U. S. Minister sent to Chile that had previous diplomatic training. The chief reason he is so popular in Chile, irrespective of his personal claims, is the admirable tact he has displayed in completely restoring the cordial relations between the two countries interrupted by the events of a few years ago.

Our countrymen in Campana are still keeping the Jubilee ball rolling. They treated selves and friends to a grand ball last night, and have a concert on hand for the 8th of July, the proceeds to go to the British Hospital. Bravo! Campana.

There seems to be a growing idea amongst the public and many of our colleagues that the idea of dragging out the National Guards on the 9th prox. is a mistake. It will cost between forty and fifty thousand dollars, and it is impossible for the boys to make even an average attempt at marching after only one Sunday's instruction in the new drill. There will certainly be an ignominious break down if the idea be persevered in.

We find the following sale of pictures recorded in the London Times. We see a Turner sold at £7,400 guineas, the highest price ever paid for one of the great painter's works. We happen to have a splendid specimen of them, and would not sell it for £10,000, as, in a few years more, we feel certain of getting double that money for the gem:—"The chief portion of the late Sir John Pender's collection of pictures was sold on Saturday at Christie's, and realized altogether £75,917. Some very high prices were obtained. Four examples of Turner brought altogether £30,345. "Wreckers" was knocked down for 7,400 guineas, the highest price ever yet obtained for a Turner at auction; "Mercury and Hersé," 7,500 guineas; "The State Procession," 7,000 guineas; and "Venice," 6,800 guineas."

The demand for tickets for the ball for the Convalescent Home in Prince George's Hall to-morrow-night was positively frantic yesterday, and there won't be much dancing room. A guard of blue-jackets and Marines will do the honours to the President of the Republic.

Captain Thwaites and the officers of the Argentine gunboat Parana gave a grand breakfast on board on Sunday to a distinguished company. After the "opiparo" meal dancing began and was kept up till 5 p.m. with unflagging spirit.

Two telegrams received during the past three days have referred to the new Portugese "armorclad" Adamastor and her coming trials. The ship, about which there has been so much telegraphing, is nothing more than a first-class gunboat or third-class cruiser of 1,760 tons normal displacement with 270 tons of coal in the bunkers and 1,995 tons displacement when fully loaded. She is expected to steam 17 ½ knots when forced, and mounts two 5.9 in., four 4.7 in., and two 6 pounder quick-fire guns, four machine guns and three torpedo-tubes. What in the world the telegrams are sent for we can not make out.

It is very satisfactory to find that the stampede in gold has received a salutary check. If the collapse were to have continued with the fury of enthusiasm which marked the decline in prices on Friday and Saturday last, everything would have gone topsy-turvey, to the consequent detriment of all business interests, as it would have paralysed transactions, provoked distrust and baulked the steady appreciation which is beginning to take shape in the general situation. Luckily there are no speculative elements at present weighing on the market. The volume of gold sold is, therefore, very meagre, but on the other hand this lends stability, which is the great desideratum. Everything looks ver. clear and promising. By the middle of July, the National Party will have held its convention and proclaimed General Roca its Candidate, which is tantamount to declaring him next President. By August we shall have the clip and crops prospects before us in solid reality, and then we may expect to find everything promising. The outlook has lost its terrors. Business at present is very steady, and perhaps the squeeze is tightest in the National Treasury, which, with the Full Payment, ships, armament, Provincial arrangements and old debts to provide for, must keep the Finance Minister's ingenuity up to the highest pitch. But, that the country can grasp and cope with it all, nobody doubts, and hence the unwavering conviction that gold must fall steadily month by month. The bulls have been wiped out; the bears now rule the ring.

The total business in gold at the first hour nearly shaved the lower rim of the round million, with a fair division for cash and dates, prices running a dead-level right through, opening at 288.50 and closing 30 cents up. After the hour there were buyers and sellers at 289. Stocks keep quiet. Some National G's were done at 84, Banco de Italia shares at 85 and Catalinas at 8.30.

Mr. Fariña sold to-day at auction 100 shares of the Banco Hipotecario de la Capital at $84.

Hot on the heels of the grateful news of the readjustment of the Provincial Debt of Buenos Aires, our London friends will receive the unpalatable intelligence of an action brought against the La Plata Government for the very stiff sum of Ten Million Dollars, news which will not create dismay from the magnitude of the amount, but from the fact of the action being taken to vindicate foreign capital. If the point at issue were a concession granted by another provincial Government infringing jurisdiction, the matter would not be so grave; but broadly the suit brings into question the right of a Government to undo its own acts, annulling a concession under which English capital had been induced into investment. The gravity of the case could not be greater, and the wonder is that Dr. Udaondo, who professes to have achieved such progress in regulating the march of affairs and amending the distraught finances, who professes to a zealous regard for the respect due to foreign obligations dormant for six or seven years, who claims to have regenerated the province in fact—the wonder is that he can possibly regard with indifference the coupling of his name with an action at law in which damages for millions are claimed by foreign capital with such a show of reason. It may be urged that legislative influences biassed and interested have been at the root of it, but the thing sounds badly and smells rank. It will be a terrible check to foreign capital; as what guarantee will be considered sufficient when a Government's own decrees and concessions are set at naught to suit private ends. It is not a question of names. It reaches far more deeply, embracing a fundamental principle which cannot be set aside at will or bandied about at pleasure without sapping the roots of responsibility and credit, and it is this and not the Ten Millions that will mark the impression the affair will create in London when the news is published.

Among the various prizes offered for competition at the Rural Society's show, which takes place in Palermo next September, is a silver cup presented by Messrs Mackill, Laidlaw and Company to be won by the exhibitor of the three best Lincoln rams of not more than eighteen months of age and bred in this country. Rams that won this prize last year are not eligible for competition.

The Economiste Français states that the total production of wool last year was 2,450 millions pounds, of which 643 millions came from Australia, 612 millions from the Continent of Europe, 329 millions from the Argentine Republic, 289 millions from North America, 135 millions from Great Britain, 93 millions from the Cape Colony, and 349 millions from other countries. This represents a diminution of 44 millions in the production of Australia, of 22 millions in that of the United States, while there was an increase of 25 and of 12 millions respectively in that of the Argentine Republic and of the Cape.

The tone of the London financial press, when treating of the Argentine railways, is decidedly optimistic, as we have frequently had occasion to point out, and now we find the following very cheerful review of the results of the Bahia Blanca and North Western in the Financial News. We congratulate Mr. Harding Green, the manager of the line, on the very favorable report his board has been able to make, due undoubtedly in great part to careful management and enterprising policy. Our colleague says:— "Excellent results of the working of the B. Blanca and North-Western Railway Company are shown in the report for the year ended December 31st last. The net profit amounts to $97,063, or a profit of £8,159 as against a loss of £1,156 for the previous year. The issue of £250,000 4% first debenture stock was made in July last, and the lines were opened to General Acha on October 1st, 1896, to Utracan on December 1st, 1896, while that to Naicó (19 miles short of Toay) was to be ready for opening on the first of last month. The earthworks are completed to Toay (230 miles,) and it was anticipated that the remainder of the work to that place would shortly be completed. It is intended to make up the six months' accounts to June 30th next, and thereafter to present a statement to that date in each year. The Argentine Government has delivered to the company a 4% provisional bond for £448,993, upon which the interest has been received, as well as ½ % for amortization, during 1896. The latter amount has since been invested. The directors point out that the growing wool traffic requires more accommodation at Bahia Blanca, and they have therefore obtained a municipal concession authorizing the establishment of a produce market near the terminus of the line. It is estimated that the immediate expenditure will not exceed £30,000, and a scale of storage rates has already been arranged."

The British Army Commission sent out here to purchase Argentine horses for the troops in South Africa has now finished its task, and all the horses required, 1400, are in their possession. These animals are perfectly sound in wind and limb, and were only accepted after most careful examination by competent veterinary surgeons. The average age and height of the animals is 5 to 6 years, and 1,45 metres respectively. The price paid was between $50 and $70 paper. The horses will be sent to the Cape in two steamers, the Arroyo and Langton Grange. These two steamers have been properly fitted out. The Arroyo started to-day with 500 animals, and the rest will go by the Langton Grange.

If anything were required to stamp Dr. Escalante as a really practical man, we have it in the details of the arrangement for the readjustment and resumption of the foreign debt of the Province of Buenos Aires. Coming after his Mortgage Summary Jurisdiction Bill, this Buenos Aires arrangement is a violent contrast to the indefinite, slip-shod, half-incomprehensible, vague procedure which generally obtains in these cases. The details have been narrowed down to the finest point, so much per cent of various items of revenue so calculated as to yield the amount required for the service, and the deposit is to be made daily in the Banco de la Nacion under direct responsibility of the Provincial Revenue Receiver. Thus there can be no appreciable mistake in calculations, no leakage, no appropriation of funds for pressing needs. The Minister nails the thing hard and fast, thus securing the National Exchequer against its guarantee, which we may say without hesitation, is a double guarantee for the creditors or bondholders of the stability of the settlement. The 4 % interest on 34,000,000 gold bonds will demand 1,360,000 gold per annum which at 300% works out at say a round 4 millions paper. This will be drawn from:—

20% of stamp and "guias" tax figuring in the budget at $5,900,000	1,180,000
30% of license tax, on budget figures of $1,850,000	555,000
All Port dues	1,000,000
20% of land tax, on budget figures of $3,900,000	780,000
50 % of arrears of previous years, on budget figure of $1,250,000	625,000
	$4,140,000

With exception of the last item all seem fairly reliable, and we suppose even that will run close enough, as arrears in this country rarely shew a decreasing tendency, however difficult the collection thereof may be. Thus this business is practically closed, as it only has to receive the assent of the Provincial Chambers and final approval of Congress.

Mr. Thomas Hearne was welcomed today from Curamalan. He reports everything going on swimmingly in the Principality, as though camps had been pretty bare and stock thin, the recent rainfalls are bringing things round apace. A week or so ago there was a heavy snowfall at Bahia Blanca. The farmers have put a tremendous area under cultivation this year, and if all goes well there will a magnificent crop.

At long last the vexed question anent the Rosario City Improvements seems in a fair way of being polished off. Messrs J. F. Sarby and Maschwitz, Civil engineers, the arbitrators, have left for Rosario to inspect the works and make their award, the former representing the Municipality and the latter the constructors, or rather the Company. The business will probably take a week to finish, and in case of disagreement Mr. Luis Amespil will act as umpire.

At the meeting of shareholders of the Rio Corintos Mining Company held on Saturday, Messrs. Kohn and Morpurgo were elected directors, with Mr. Haefell as substitute. It was also resolved to deliver to the River Plate Syndicate 326 shares of $100 gold each. The meeting was well attended and much interest was manifested in the proceedings.

Now that things are looking up again there seems to be more interest in stocks though the inquiry as yet is very limited. Still, the good stocks are improving, as we see Banco de Italia shares, which were down to 80, now changing hands at 85. The rare of Old Gas shares at auction at 160 has called much attention, as the price shews a severe drop, but the talk of a law-suit and complications made people apprehensive of these particular shares, which in fact formed part of the transaction on which the suit arose, though we understand it has since been arranged; the stock, therefore, should recover its buoyancy, and as will be seen by a balance-sheet which we publish in another column, the Old Gas Company is on a very healthy prosperous basis. It was perhaps a mistake to issue shares instead of debentures, but that cannot materially injure the company's standing or prospects. A batch of 100 shares of the Banco Hipotecario de La Capital sold at auction to day also shews a fall, the price being 84¾, as against 87.50% previously paid. This is a gold stock, nominal value $100 with 40% paid, so that to-day's price figures out at $33,60 a much lower quotation than holders care to realize at. A few days ago we published some data of the bank's position and outlook, according to which the shares should be worth about 90% of their face value, so that there is still a big margin for improvement. Buenos Aires Ports also offer a favorable medium for investement, as well as other varieties, but of those anon.

The commercial cables to-day give Fundings up to 88¾, combed B wool steady at 3.87½ francs, linseed at 29s. 3d. and maize at 13s. 6d.

The sales in the produce market this morning embraced:

40,000 kilos wool.
1,200,000 kilos wheat.
375,000 kilos maize.

There is little or nothing doing in exchange, the market being very dull, with takers not inclined to give way. If anything rates are a shade weaker, there being takers at 47 7/8d. We quote:

London 47 7/8d.
Paris 5 fcs.
Antwerp 5.02 fcs.
Hamburg 4.07 mks.

Discounts reflect no change, rates being unaltered, and not much demand.

Business was fairly brisk in gold at the second hour, as Wednesday being liquidation day, many orders had to be closed off, but there was absolutely no change in positions, the price opening and closing at 289 for cash and all dates. Stocks of course, were quiet; some National G's were done at 83.90, shewing a fall of 10 cents, and a small batch of Banco de Italia at 85. Catalinas relaxed to 8.10.

PAISLEY FLOUR

STRONG POINTS OF BROWN & POLSON'S PAISLEY FLOUR.

1.—It is a new preparation of Brown and Polson's Corn Flour, possessed of many excellent qualities, to be added to ordinary flour for RAISING and IMPROVING scones, cakes, pastry, and household bread. No yeast or other raising agent is required. Using one part Paisley Flour to 6 to 8 parts ordinary flour, delicious cakes, scones, and breakfast rolls can be made, WHICH WILL COST LESS THAN AT THE BAKERS!

2.—It is absolutely pure and wholesome, and is the only preparation in the market which REALLY IMPROVES the quality of ordinary flour.

3.—It adds materially to the bulk of the flour, and makes the flour go much further than when yeast is used, as it does not decompose the flour and ferment the bread as yeast does.

4.—No self raising flour or raising agent will keep so long as this preparation there is no fear of it becoming mouldy.

5.—It is very easily distributed through the other materials and greatly simplifies the preparation of the dough «making home baking a pleasure.»

6.—It improves the flavour and increases the digestibility of the food. It makes bread digestible even when eaten quite new, makes scones and cakes deliciously light, and pastry crisp and short.
